LOCAL & PERSONAL

STREET WIDENING IN PROGRESS.

The work of moving dirt on the highway widening project through town began in real earnest Monday and has been making rapid progress. The work is under direction of Highway Section Foreman J. R. Getts, assisted by Travis E. Perrenot, and is being done by the maintenance crew of this section. The old drainage ditch and sewer are being filled up and a new one opened about 28 feet north of the center of the present paving. A 385-ft. concrete drainage sewer will be built parallel with the section now being destroyed. On the rest of the distance the road-bed will be graded in a gradual slope from the center to the open ditch on the side. On this a ten feet wide strip of gravel surface will be placed, which with the present paving will give a driving road surface of approximately 37 feet. Paving the new construction is not a part of the present plan and it will be left with the gravel surface. The widening of the road necessitates the moving of several electric light poles and some re-adjustments on the water-main which supplies water to the north side of town. When completed the change will be a great improvement to the appearance and the traffic safety of that street.

W. M. S. MEETS.

Mrs. Chas. J. Monkhouse entertained the W. M. S. in her beautiful new home on Tuesday afternoon of last week, with fourteen members present. After the guests had the pleasure of viewing each room of the new home the program was conducted with Mrs. J. R. Chancey as leader. The subject of the lesson was "China" and was made very interesting indeed by several members giving parts of the lesson. The Missionary Bulletin was presented by the Superintendent of Publicity and many interesting messages from the officers of the West Texas Missionary Conference were read. Mrs. F. Gave a report of the district conference held at Utopia. The meeting closed with a very spiritual prayer by Mrs. J. A. Horgor for the meeting which is now in progress at the Methodist Church. Mrs. Monkhouse, assisted by Miss Lora King, served delicious refreshments.

HONDO GIRL RECEIVES SIGNAL DISTINCTION.

Miss Margaret Ann Knopp, a sophomore in Hondo High School, brought considerable honor to herself and to the school by receiving a perfect score from the judges in the recent music contests held in Seguin. Margaret Ann competed in the solo contest for stringed instruments and won first place, defeating among others the boy who has won first place in that particular contest for the past two years. An announcement of the results of the Seguin contests was made in a previous issue of this paper, but at that time the staff did not know of the remarkable score made in this particular contest. Margaret Ann, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. B. Knopp, is a violin pupil of Sister Hortensia of Our Lady of the Lake College.

METHODIST NOTES.

The campaign of visitation evangelism conducted by the Methodist Church was so successful the pastor and members decided to continue it. Rev. Bruce M. Cox has been bringing interesting and colorful messages and will preach Thursday, Friday and Sunday evenings at 8 o'clock. The pastor will preach Sunday morning. You are cordially invited.

ED FINGER UNSIGNED TO BASEBALL CONTRACT.

Ed Finger, young pitcher for D'Hanis, has not signed a contract to play baseball with the New York Yankees, it was learned yesterday. Finger only has come to a verbal agreement about the contract which is to be offered to him when he finishes school. He plans to go to Rice Institute this fall. —San Antonio Express.

Barry Completes Tenth Year As Superintendent

SUPERINTENDENT J. G. BARRY

Mr. J. Gordon Barry to date completes his tenth successive year as Superintendent of Hondo Public Schools. Mr. Barry, who is possessor of a Master of Arts degree, came to Hondo in 1928 from Bastrop, Texas, where he had taught in Bastrop Public School. His excellent ability has been proved by the many improvements made in the school since. The school has since that time been made an Accredited Secondary School by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Added to the curriculum under Mr. Barry's superintendency are Vocational Agriculture, Homemaking, Music, and Commercial departments, with five teachers added to the faculty. The football field has been perfected, five tennis courts made, and the campus improved to the extent that now it is classed as one of the most beautiful in South Texas, all of this done under his supervision. Mr. Barry organized the first pep squad and started the tradition of having a banquet after each football season.

BASEBALL BOOSTS.

The Hondo Red Sox defeated the D'Hanis Pirates at D'Hanis Sunday to go into a tie for first place with the Pirates in the Highway 90 League. The score was 5 to 3.

Sadler and Ed Finger tied up in a mound duel for six innings. Finger retired with a two-run lead and T. Koch, who succeeded him, was touched for three runs in the seventh and was the losing pitcher. Knox scored three times for Hondo while Wolff pounded out three hits, including a double, to lead the Pirates at bat.

Immediately after the game Scout Andy Devine of the New York Yankees, who witnessed the game, signed Ed Finger, young Pirate right-hander, to a Yankee contract. Finger will probably be farmed out to one of the Yankee farm clubs for added experience.

The officers presided over the meeting and several hundred guests enjoyed the banquet with the boys. The repast was planned, prepared and served under the direction of the Home Economics teacher, Miss Dorothy Howard, assisted by the girls of her class.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH.

Announcement for Sunday, May 29, as follows: Sunday school at 9:00 and English service at 10:30.

We may lose our health, or our possessions, or our friends; but this is nothing compared with the loss of the feeling that we should worship. If we find it hard to think of congregational worship as a blessed privilege, then let us learn to look upon it as our sacred duty.

Ladies Aid meets in the home of Mrs. Aug. Schroeder in the afternoon of June 1.

The Luther Leaguers will assemble for their regular monthly session on Thursday evening, June 3. It's encouraging to hear that several others have expressed their intention to join.—Paul Czerkus, Pastor.

For the first time in the history of Hondo High School, a round-up of its graduates and ex-students was held in connection with the commencement exercises for the graduates of 1938, Tuesday, May 24, in the afternoon and evening at the school. The reunion of students was sponsored by this year's senior class, and the plans and preparations were made and successfully carried out by them, under the supervision of Miss Jacqueline Adams, a member of the high school faculty.

The hours from four to seven in the afternoon were given over completely to the ex-students and old graduates, the present seniors serving as guides about the school and grounds and mentors of the registration booth. The first order of the program was the meeting of the graduates for the purpose of reorganizing the Alumni Association of Hondo High School which was active last in 1927.

About one hundred and twenty-five graduates, exclusive of the thirty-one seniors becoming eligible to membership, gathered in the school auditorium at four o'clock when the meeting was conducted by Dr. O. B. Taylor, alumnus of 1910. Both Dr. Taylor and Supt. J. G. Barry urged the organization of an active body, stressing the importance of such an organization in giving assistance and prestige to the school and the Association. Mr. Irving Honegger of Houston, a graduate of 1904, who is behind the movement one hundred percent, made the motion to organize and elect officers, which the group proceeded to do.

The election was held by acclamation, Dr. O. B. Taylor being elected president; Mrs. T. C. Barnes, 1904, as vice-president; and Miss Anne Davis, 1926, as secretary.

A large number of out-of-town graduates were unable to attend and sent their regrets in enthusiastic letters commending the round-up and extending offers of co-operation and best wishes in the forming of the Alumni Association. Most of these writers were of the opinion that had the round-up been scheduled for a week-end that more of them could have attended. The question, therefore, came up before the meeting as to how often and the most convenient time to hold the reunions. It was voted to carry on the home-coming plan to be held every three years, on a Saturday.

The meeting adjourned following the request by Miss Adams for all graduates to register and her invitation to inspect the school and campus. The seniors, attired in grey caps and gowns, conducted the visitors about, while the Pep Squad girls managed a refreshment stand on Barry Field for their accommodation.

From seven to eight, informal get-togethers were held on the school grounds and in private homes. Accounts of the special class reunions are given elsewhere in this paper.

The closing event of the round-up activities and the grand finale for the seniors of 1938, were the commencement exercises held at 8 o'clock on Barry Field. The night was perfect for an out-door gathering and over a thousand ex-students and visitors were present to share with the "old grads" their reminiscences and the "new grads" their commencement.

The procession was very impressive, with the Pep Squad girls and their drum corps in blue and white uniforms leading the way, followed by the faculty members in caps and gowns wearing the colors representative of their degrees, the president of the School Board, the speakers on the program and the thirty-one members of the graduating class. The Pep Squad formed the numbers "38" on both sides of the speakers' platform. The invocation was given by Rev. Milton Falkenberg, pastor of a Lutheran church in San Antonio, and a member of the class of 1927.

Robert David Windrow, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Windrow of Hondo and fourth in his family to be valedictorian of his class, welcomed the visitors to the final exercises of his class.

Supt. J. G. Barry served as master of ceremonies, giving recognition to the classes from 1904 to 1938 by having them rise as each year was called. He also introduced the distinguished speakers whose all too brief addresses were reminiscent of school days in Hondo High School. They were: Mr. Irving Honegger of Houston, class of 1904, who with Mrs. T. C. Barnes, were the first graduates of Hondo High School; Hon. Hite Harper, mayor of Eagle Pass and class of 1910; Dr. O. B. Taylor, class of 1910; Mr. Willie Windrow, ex-student and member of the first football team, 1912; Mrs. Hilda Muennink Sheep, class of 1914; and Rev. Falkenberg, 1927.

The past and present school board members, and letter-men in high school athletics, and others were recognized.

Dr. H. J. Meyer, president of the school board, presented the diplomas to the members of the 1938 graduating class, and as each senior received his, the parents in the audience were asked to rise and receive recognition.

Journalism Class' Activities Are Reviewed

Because all Journalism activities of the first school semester were merely preparatory for the second semester's projects, they have not been reviewed here. The following touches only on the highlights of "Mr. Journalism's Career in Hondo High School".

January 26—Journalism Class begins publishing The Owl as class project with the positions on the staff rotating.

February 2—Journalism Owl Staff publishes their second edition of The Owl.

THE MARATHON TIRE.

"It will run and run and run!" That's how M. F. Schweers, who handles Goodyear tires, describes the new tire he is selling.

"Name of the new tire is 'Marathon', and it is particularly appropriate", Mr. Schweers declared. "The Marathon is designed to give the utmost in mileage at a cost much lower than the average motorist is prepared to pay for a tire of this quality."

"The fact that the Marathon is priced within the reach of every car owner means that this tire is going to become increasingly popular, and it's going to start becoming popular right now."

"With the Spring and Summer driving season just opening up, motorists are having their cars checked over, and many of them are going to find out their present tire equipment needs replacing before any considerable amount of driving is possible."

"The new Marathon is just the tire for this purpose, and in addition to being handsome in appearance has a new wide tread, presenting more wearing surface to the road and prolonging tread life, has the new roll-grip non-skid, combining all the advantages of multiple long-wearing ribs with deep non-skid design, is backed by a full lifetime guarantee."

"The motorist who equips his car with new Marathon now is going to be able to drive throughout the year secure in the knowledge he will be free from exasperating roadside delays due to tire trouble, trouble that he might have if he continued to drive on the old, worn tires that have already seen many thousands of miles of hard service", he concluded.

February 7—Owl Sponsor and Journalism teacher, Miss Jacqueline Adams, gives past and present Owl Staffs a steak fry.

February 9, 16 and 23—regular Owl are published.

March 2—Journalism students select Freshman Owl Staff which is to publish next edition of paper.

March 9—Freshmen publish the edition of The Owl.

March 11—Two Journalism students, Frances Ruth Fly and Kathleen Reily, interview Miss Grace Moore, world famous opera star.

March 16—Sophomore Class publishes their edition of The Owl.

March 21—Journalism Class makes plans for publishing special April Fool's Owl.

March 23—Edit regular Owl, announcing their plans for the publishing of a special funny sheet for April's Fool Day.

March 29—Journalism Class presents a skit "The Owl Office" at Father's Night. The skit was written, directed and acted by Journalism students.

March 30—Edit regular Owl with the continuation of the advertising for the April Fool's Owl which was to be sold for five cents a copy.

March 31—Poll closed for Editor of April Fool's Owl.

April 1—First special edition (April Fool's) published.

April 6—Regular Owl published.

April 13—Journalism Class edits the last edition of The Owl. New Staff, composed of Junior students, announced.

April 20—Junior Class edits first edition of The Owl.

Not mentioned here are the various projects, such as the lighting of Barry Field and the continuation of Journalism in Hondo High School, which the Journalism Class, through The Owl, backed. Publicity was also given to all activities of school organizations, clubs and classes.

For the first time, The Owl staff will close its books for the year with money in the bank.

The Beginning of Hondo High School

In 1904 the town of Hondo incorporated for school purposes, creating the Hondo Independent School District and bringing to life Hondo High School.

It was in this year that a bond issue of eight thousand dollars was voted, and consequently a six-room, two-story, brick building was erected with Professor Honold as Superintendent.

For five years this institution stood as a monument to Hondo's pioneers in education; then in 1909 a second bond issue, this one for ten thousand dollars, was voted; resulting in the erection of a four room, two story addition. During this term Professor M. R. Nelson was at the helm.

The library consisted of three hundred volumes, while the science department had its own reference books and ample equipment for physics, general science, physical

H. H. S. Graduate To Try Out With Yanks

Edward "Ep" Finger, Hondo High School graduate, was scouted at the Austin game by Joe Devine, New York Yankee scout. Devine liked Finger's pitching as well as his being an all-around ball player and saw many possibilities for him. He also scouted "Ep" at the game between D'Hanis and Hondo last Sunday. After the game Devine talked with "Ep" and his parents and has agreed to give "Ep" a chance at professional baseball after he completes his college career. At Devine's suggestion, Finger has decided to go to El Paso to work out with the El Paso team. "Ep" will receive coaching from Yankee instructors with the El Paso team. Finger is going to leave for El Paso Wednesday and will stay with the team for about two or three weeks.

FOOTBALL OF 1938

IN looking into the future of our 1938 football season, we find many changes taking shape. In taking a bird's-eye view of the future we will find an improved football field with new lights, providing night games and also more fans. More bleachers will be added on the East side, giving Barry field a greater seating capacity. The change of the entrance to the South side will make the approach to the field more convenient.

major sport to be adopted by the boys, but football, basketball, and track soon followed. The girls' principal activity in the line of athletics was playing basketball. In the other sports their participation was limited to cheering the boys on to victory.

Then came the war period—the time that changed the activities of school life.

Knitting was the favorite pastime of girls and boys alike, and it was a common sight to see boys using their recess periods as a time to knit.

Another pastime, or perhaps a duty of the girls at that time, was writing letters to the soldiers—an activity which they engaged in with eagerness and enthusiasm.

Thus was laid the foundation of the Hondo High School you see today, the high school which has, through the years, maintained its high standards and its rank among the best schools of Texas.

JAMES W. MILLER.

Mr. James W. Miller died at his home, 1227 McKinley Avenue, San Antonio, Texas, May 24, 1938. His remains were brought to Hondo and following a funeral service at the Horger funeral chapel were buried by the side of those of his wife in the family plot in Ingleside cemetery at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Rev. W. S. Highsmith, pastor of the local Methodist church, of which Mr. Miller had been a member for many years, conducted the service according to the rites of that faith. Pallbearers were: Hy. Merriman, Henry Crow, Andrew Bless, Will Windrow, Lawrence Brucks and George Carle.

Mr. Miller was born in Logan County, Kentucky, August 5, 1848, and had, therefore, attained the age of 89 years, 9 months and 19 days at the time of his demise. His parents moved to Guadalupe County, Texas, and located near Seguin when he was about eleven years of age. There he grew to manhood and was married to Miss Lelia Guinn on March 25, 1872. In August 1883, Mr. Miller's father and family, together with him and two brothers and their families, moved to Medina County where the deceased continued to reside until advancing age and impaired health of himself and his wife made it necessary to have some one with them and three years ago he and Mrs. Miller moved to San Antonio where they lived with their children. Mrs. Miller preceded her husband in death several months ago.

There were eight children born to Mr. and Mrs. Miller. Surviving are the following: Mrs. W. H. Moore, Mrs. J. F. Dilworth, Mrs. C. B. Brown, Mrs. A. L. Cory, all of San Antonio; N. G. Miller of West Columbia, Texas, and Jake J. Miller of Miami, Florida. Ten grandchildren and six great-grandchildren also survive, as does one brother, W. F. Miller of Hondo.

Mr. Miller united with the Methodist church in early life and remained a faithful member until his passing. He had rendered helpful service to his local church both as a steward and in other capacities.

An energetic, industrious man, a good husband and father and an exemplary citizen, after a long and busy life, has gone to his eternal reward.

OLIVER PERRY ROSS.

The subject of this sketch was born in Wilson County, Texas, on October 25, 1874. He died at his home near Tarpley, Texas, on May 18, 1938, having attained the age of 63 years, six months and twenty-one days.

He was united in marriage to Miss Emilie Eckhart of Qhihi on May 19, 1899. To this union were born six sons and two daughters. They are: Chas. P. Ross, Mrs. John Folk, Fred H. Ross, Oscar G. Ross, and Thomas O. Ross of Tarpley, James W. Ross of Corpus Christi, Texas, and Rudolph Ross of Ingleside, Texas. The youngest daughter died in infancy.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Ross, one brother and two sisters preceded him in death and there remain six brothers and one sister to mourn his departure.

He was converted and united with the Missionary Baptist Church at Tarpley on October 29, 1933, and approached the end of his mortal career sustained and comforted by the faith which he professed.

Burial was made at the Tarpley cemetery, Rev. Williams conducting the funeral service. The pallbearers were Claude W. Gilliam, Earl Starnes, Otto Sprott, Delbert Hicks, Ben Balzen, and A. Gerodetti.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS.

The New Fountain Woman's Missionary Society met in its regular meeting at the home of the hostess, Mrs. Jacob Schweers, May 19th. Thirteen members were in attendance and one guest, Mrs. Fritz Stiegler, president, presided, during the business session. Mrs. John Muennink offered to buy new paper to re-paper church windows.

The program was led by Mrs. Frank Muennink. Miss Nelda Schweers rendered a musical prelude to the program. Call to Worship, as follows, was given by the leader: "With St. Augustine, we would lift our hearts to God and say, 'Thou hast formed us for Thyself, and our hearts are restless till they find their rest in Thee.' We believe that all men have this same yearning; that men who are selfish, cruel, and intolerant may be changed by the Spirit of God, through the forces of evangelism and education. God works in many wonderful ways. Today we shall see how the educational and evangelistic work in China has brought untold blessings to so many in that land." Mrs. Fritz Stiegler gave a talk on the subject, "Human Nature Can Be Changed." Several historic papers were given, "Those Who Laid the Foundation," by Mrs. Paine; "The Ministry of Education," by Mrs. Theo. G. Wiemers; "The Ministry of Healing," by Mrs. H. C. Muennink; and "The Ministry of Evangelism," by Mrs. Clarence Schweers.

The hostess served a plate lunch which was followed by a social hour.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER.

Among the pre-nuptial courtesies being given in honor of Miss Evelyn Mann, a June bride-to-be, was the miscellaneous shower and tea from 3 to 7 o'clock Thursday afternoon, May 19, at the home of Mrs. T. J. Sauter. Hostesses were Mesdames Jacob Fohn, Henry Riff, V. H. Neumann, J. D. Sureddin, and Misses Julia Mann and Inez Biry.

Summer flowers were used in decoration of the home, pink roses and sweet peas being the favored blossoms in the living room and gift rooms. FOUR HURT IN CRASH.

Misses Josephine and Genevieve Brucks and Bernice Chaney, and Mr. Earl Earnest, four Hondo people, narrowly escaped with their lives but were badly injured early Sunday morning when their car went into a ditch and was wrecked near D'Hanis. The party was enroute home from near Sabinal when the accident occurred.

Passing motorists assisted the injured people and sent for medical aid and an ambulance. All were brought to the Medina Hospital here for treatment. Miss Genevieve Brucks, who suffered a broken ankle of the left leg, was able to leave the hospital Monday. Miss Josephine Brucks sustained a severe scalp wound which required fourteen stitches to close and other cuts and bruises about the body. Miss Chaney narrowly escaped the loss of her left eye when she received a cut above the eye extending along the side of the nose and under the left eye, and requiring twelve stitches. Her face was also badly bruised. She and Miss Brucks, who are the most seriously injured, remain at the hospital but are improving. Earl Earnest, after being treated for lacerations about the face and arms, was able to return home the same day.

The car, a Ford coupe belonging to Mr. J. R. Chaney, and driven by Miss Chaney at the time of the accident, was badly wrecked.

QUIHI NOTES.

Then I will send, and fetch thee from thence; why should I be deprived also of you both in one day? Gen. 27:45.

"Tarry with him (my brother) a few days, until thy brother's fury turn away; until thy brother's anger turn away, and he forget that which thou hast done to him, then I will send, and fetch thee..."

"Then I will send, and fetch thee..."

"Then... Did that 'then' ever come for Rebekah? Interesting how much we take for granted what is absolutely beyond our control; how much business we transact with that invisible, fleeting, elusive capital 'then.' Man scans the watch, the dial, the sun, but God provides the time. Man has the usufruct, the enjoyment of 'Time' for a while, yet he has usurped and taken over the lordship of time, dividing and applying and losing it at his own leisure; assuming 'to-morrow, to-morrow, to-morrow creeps in this petty pace from day to day' forevermore. He draws on time, has it hanging on his hands or flings it to oblivion, he is weary of it or has a time of it, he takes his time or is riding on the 'steed of time,' he finds it unraveling riddles or out of joint, a great architect or the Moloch that devours his own children, the 'edax rerum' of old, the monster that swallows everything; he is a time-pleaser and a time-server for his little 'ego' or 'doing his time' for his bosses and follies, or the judicious manipulator with a schedule for every hour, well aware 'time wasted is existence, used is life,' perhaps knowing, 'here today, gone to-morrow.' In brief, man considers himself the chief engineer at the great throttle-valve of time, regulating the supply and often believing himself to be the source of the supply. So does Rebekah. And she expects even more of time; millions with her. Time must regulate and adjust matters, must wipe out injury and injustice, must provide a clean slate and a clear conscience. Time may 'cool off' passions — or provide fuel for more terrific outbreaks; it may quench the flames of anger and fury or keep the embers alive; it may pluck out prejudice and bias and allow sober judgment creep to the surface — or help prepare for an Armageddon, a battle of extinction; it may line up re-discovered friends in one camp, but also the enemies with gnashing teeth across the line; one thing time will not do; it will not wash away guilt, the sinful record of the past, the broken relations and consequences of sin with God, as little as it will undo those sleepless nights, dry those bitter tears, remove those long rows of memorial slabs in cemeteries, compensate those millions of widows and orphans, undo those woeful heartaches of the lamenting, God sizes up these things in His own way and deals with them according to His laws. Prophets and kings we are to be in this world and priests of an eternal world, His representatives, and what we know and gather and conquer and reproduce in daily life, in word and action, in principle and sentiment and contact, it should be dedicated to Him with a joyful heart. Sin is throttling His purpose in every way. He will not allow its sway. He will forgive to the penitent heart; he will frustrate the intentions of the impenitent at His time, in His way. That law of retribution is an eternal law. No escape, no mocking, no reliance upon time will change it. 'Then will I send...' That 'then' never came for Rebekah.

Hondo had its flood-day. Qihhi does not stand back. We have had ours. And it was the genuine kind. Every little creek and slough was running. Yards were filled to the brim, and so was every ditch. Never have we crossed as many well-watered roads before. Hail again threatened. No damage. Thanks to the Lord. But the oats-fields have suffered a good deal, we fear. But the weeds and the frogs, how they would laugh if they could; it's their ideal season.

Mr. John G. Schuehle had to submit to an operation for appendectomy, we hear, the thing that's so much in vogue these days, with no one knowing who's next. He has all the care he needs, we're sure; and may the Lord convey the right meaning and interpretation of it all—and a speedy recovery.

Many of the old and time-worn graves at the Old Quihi Cemetery have received the proper care these weeks in preparation for Ascension Day. A fine custom and much in need. Graves, as memories, are apt to be overgrown with weeds, and forgotten. Most of the dead deserve a better lot. Many need flowers during their life-time, served by tender hearts and helpful hands.

Next Sunday is the Anniversary Day for our Ladies' Aid. They make little ado of their help and influence in the congregation; it sinks down, silently and softly, as the dew of the morn. And little do they clamor for public recognition, but a little tribute is due, and we shall not let the day pass unnoticed. May they and their friends all be able to attend the service. We invite you.

WASHINGTON SNAPSHOTS.

By James Preston.

The opinions here expressed are Mr. Preston's own and not necessarily those of this paper.—M. E.

The Congressional scene this week is not unlike a small boy anxious to get out and play ball and willing to concede almost anything to speed up his chores.

The legislators are anxious to get home to feel the pulse in the grass roots but leaders have firmly laid down the ultimatum that must bills must be ground through the legislative mill before there is any campaigning at home.

The Congressmen are doubtful about the whole thing. The leaders, however, insist the wage-hour and spending spree programs are the "people's mandate." Although reluctant to accept this word, the members have had no choice in the absence of any voice from the folks back home.

Another item on the "do or else" calendar for the Congressmen this session is the plan for a half-million dollar investigation of monopolies. The odd part of it, however, is that the government spokesman asked the half a million for the job, of North Carolina—had figured out it could be done for only $25,000.

The Bailey investigation resolution has already been approved by the Senate Commerce Committee and the Senate Audit and Control Committee. Nevertheless, the spenders think $500,000 is a much more interesting sum to spend out of the public purse.

Perhaps government check-writing machines are no longer geared to such small figures!

The Treasury has taken a peek into John Q. Public's pocketbook and come up with new depression figures. It seems Mr. Public has had about $780,000,000 taken out of his bank account since the onset of the new slump. In addition about $20,000,000 is missing from his pocket change, the Treasury peepers report. The $20,000,000 represents the decrease in the amount of coins in circulation and the other figure the decrease in bank balances.

The Treasury didn't say how much of it—or could it be all—has gone into the seemingly bottomless tax well.

And speaking of the depression, some of the C.I.O. officials are already planning for the next one!

In Atlantic City last week C.I.O. Chairman John Lewis told some of the current depression is ended he is going to begin "the greatest labor organizing campaign in history." "Already," he said, "we see the next depression coming." He didn't say just when.

Many people around the Capital are wondering how much it has contributed to the current slump. It was the chief pleader for establishment of the National Labor Relations Board and the NLRB has been one of the chief factors in creating fear and uncertainty in the business world.

After all, people with a few job-giving dollars to invest are reluctant to invest in any business when there is the ever-present threat that the business might be driven on the rocks of bankruptcy by the uncompromising NLRB.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK: R.F.C. Chairman Jones: "Congress has appropriated many billions of dollars in the effort to bring relief from the depression. That we have not yet found a solution is obvious."

CORN TOPPING WASTE OF TIME.

"The question is often raised as to whether it pays to top corn for fodder," says E. A. Miller, agronomist of the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College. "My opinion is that most farmers who top their corn are working for nothing."

Miller based his statement on tests conducted by the Texas Agricultural Station over a period of six years at the substation at Beeville.

Corn which was allowed to mature without topping produced an average of 21.7 bushels an acre. Corn topped 14 days after silking yielded 17.3 bushels, a loss of 20.3 percent. Where corn was topped 26 days after silking, the yield was 17.6 bushels and the loss 18.9 percent; 38 days after silking, 19.9 bushels and a loss of 8.3 percent.

When leaves were stripped 26 days after silking, the yield was 15.3 bushels and the loss was 29.5 percent.

"The test proved that farmers are usually wasting their time in topping corn, because what they gain in fodder, they lose in grain," Miller pointed out. "It is of course possible that in case of a feed shortage, farmers might be able to keep from buying feed by topping corn to carry animals until the grain is ready, but even then it is doubtful if the practice pays."

"NOBODY'S BUSINESS."

By Julian Capers, Jr.

The opinions here expressed are the author's own and not necessarily those of the Herald.—M. E.

AUSTIN—Whenever the State of Texas has won a court victory in one of the innumerable lawsuits which have grown out of the regulatory authority exercised by the Railroad Commission, there has been a rush to claim the credit for the active member, whose most active member is Ernest O. Thompson, originator of the regulatory orders. The legal defense of the orders falls under the jurisdiction of Attorney General Bill McCraw. Both Thompson and McCraw have been more or less openly running for Governor for the past two years. The State has won a lot of lawsuits during that time, and there have been a considerable variety of claims and counter claims for the credit for these victories.

But this week, when the Supreme Court of the U. S. handed down a decision reversing the court of civil appeals at Austin, which had upheld a Commission order reducing the gas rate charged by Lone Star Gas Co. by 20 percent in 275 Texas cities and towns, and directly affecting the pocketbooks of well over a million Texans, there was an impressive silence in official quarters at Austin.

The Supreme Court opinion, as quoted in Washington press dispatches, apparently upheld the procedure followed by Thompson and the Railroad Commission in the long drawn-out valuation proceedings held at Fort Worth, and ruled that McCraw and his staff had erred in the subsequent court procedure, when they urged, and the Texas appeals court accepted, "in response to the State's pressure," and "untenable standard of proof" in the attack upon the Commission's order.

What Happens Now?

But regardless of who gets credit for the legal defeat, chief interest in the towns whose gas bills are affected, centered upon what the next step in the five-year fight will be. Some lawyers have believed that the Supreme Court ruling would send the fight back into the District Court at Austin, others that it might have to back track no further than the Austin Court of Civil Appeals. The Supreme Court decision, following well established legal precedent, used five words where one would have sufficed. So that it will doubtless take several weeks study by attorneys to determine and translate into English that a newspaper reader can understand, just what the court did decide. Meanwhile, State officials were so busy campaigning for votes that they had not had time, at the week-end, to give the opinion study and to outline a future course of action.

Proration Is Issue.

Economists throughout the nation have been amazed at the manner in which Texas has consistently maintained its status as a "white spot" on the business map throughout the business recession which has put millions in the industrial East and Middle West back on relief rolls. The answer, of course, is the uninterrupted flow of about $1,500,000 daily of new money into Texas from the production and sale of crude oil. Oil is produced in 150 counties, but this flow of new money permeates into every hamlet and village of the State.

For five months, now, there has been produced in the United States a great deal more oil than a recession-hit nation has been able to consume. Stocks of crude oil, gasoline and by-products have risen to staggering totals. The Railroad Commission, carrying out the law which says it shall prevent physical waste of oil, has reduced allowances to the minimum, then put into effect Sunday shutdowns, and finally, Saturday shutdowns as well, in an effort to prevent chaos in the industry.

At the largest-attended proration hearing held in two years here this week, oil operators solidly backed the Commission's policy of curtailment, and howled down John Schroeder, of Longview, a dissenter who wants the Federal government to take over control of the oil industry. The forthcoming order of the Commission is expected to maintain Sunday shutdowns, and possibly extend also the Saturday shutdowns. Operators here frankly declared to open the wells will cut the price. They feel it is better to sell less oil at a high price, leaving the remainder in the ground, than to run more oil and get less for it, without increasing their total income appreciably.

NEW TWIST IN GANGSTER FILM.

"Hunted Men", Paramount drama billed for Wednesday and Thursday at the Colonial Theatre, furnishes a new twist in gangster stories, dealing primarily with the regeneration of a gang leader who forces a model family in a small community to harbor him from the law. The cast includes Lloyd Nolan, Mary Carlisle, Lynne Overman, J. Carrol Naish, Delmar Watson, Dorothy Peterson and Larry Crabbe.

One painful result of the curtailment program was an order reducing by 5 percent pay of 335 employees of the Commission's oil and Gas division, which gets its operating money from a special production tax on crude produced. Curtailment of oil run has cut the monthly income of the Commission from this source by about $18,000 a month.

Politics Warms Up.

A week of vigorous campaigning by most candidates for major state offices apparently had infused some life into a campaign which has been abnormally slow to start this year. . . . Urging relief for farmers, and hitting at the waste involved in maintenance of over 100 special funds in the State treasury, Ernest Thompson sought votes in half a dozen widely scattered communities. . . . Bill McCraw, voicing his opposition to a sales tax, and pleading for no "mud-slinging" in the campaign, took his drive for ballots into deep Southeast Texas. . . . Lt. Gov. Walter Woodul, opening formally for Attorney General at Greenville, pledged himself against aiding vacancy racketeers, while fully protecting the interests of the State's school funds in public lands. . . . Land Commissioner Bill McDonald, who vigorously opposed a bill providing for a land leasing board in January a year ago, came out with an endorsement for such a board in a speech at San Marcos. . . . Fifty years ago this week, Texas' new granite capitol building was dedicated with Gov. Sul Ross presiding. The land traded by the State for the building today is worth from sixty to 100 million dollars. . . . and the capitol is now pitifully inadequate to house the State departments, many of which occupy other state buildings, or rent quarters in Austin from private owners.

PUTTING EXTRA ACRES ON LEGS.

By T. C. Richardson, Secretary Texas Breeder-Feeder Association

Under the farm law of 1938 every farm is divided, like Gaul, into three parts. They are, briefly, the soil depleting, neutral, and soil conserving acreage and proportion allotted to each division varies from county to county and farm to farm. The principal cash crops classified as "soil depleting" are governed by specific terms of the law and the regulations thereunder, and are eligible for benefit payments. The "soil conserving" crops, also designated by law and regulation, may be grazed or fed to the normal number of livestock on the farm without penalty, and when turned under for soil improvement, also earn benefit payments. This takes care of the family milk cows and work stock already on the farm.

The "neutral" or "general crop" acreage is subject to no restrictions of use whatever. It can be planted in any crop desired except those on which the farm has a definite allotment, such as cotton, wheat, rice or peanuts. It is this acreage that offers the greatest potentialities for increased and stabilized farm income, if properly used. Some of this—a very limited amount on the whole—will go into truck or other intensive crops for sale. Good judgement of course will dictate the use of liberal production of feed crops to be used at home.

Most of this acreage, however, will have to go into feed crops of one kind or another. In the cotton belt this can easily result in such a large feed crop that the cash markets will be swamped, and the producer scarcely get harvesting costs, much less pay for his labor and the use of the land in production. We have all seen milo sell at $2 to $5 a ton for heads, oats at 20 cents a bushel or less, corn at 35 cents, which does not represent day wages for harvesting and hauling to town. Since all feed crops must in the end go into livestock or poultry, it stands to reason that the consuming animals and fowls should be brought to the feed instead of shipping the feed to them elsewhere. A truck or railroad ride does not increase the meat or milk-making capacity of the ton of hay or a bushel of grain. The farmer who grows the feed can therefore produce animal products on the farm at a lower cost, and whatever the price of eggs, meat, milk or wool, sells his feed to a better advantage in concentrated form than as a raw material.

Farms already set up with the livestock and poultry to consume their feed crops, and the facilities for handling them, will follow their usual practices with no interference from the law. Those not so circumstanced may be temporarily embarrassed in making the necessary readjustments to utilize this acreage to the best advantage. Fencing and water supplies must be provided when livestock are introduced, and the livestock must be procured. When the feed is grown and properly stored financing can usually be found, either through private banks or the Production Credit Associations, for the purchase of livestock.

The final effect of the readjustments of cropping practices under the new law will be a better balanced farming system, the spreading of risks, more days of profitable employment in the farming year, the conservation and improvement of the soil, higher acre yields of the cash crops as a result of rotations and manuring, and a better standard of rural life in the South. Wise farmers are making the most of the opportunity to get away from the one-crop system with government benefits to help in making the change.

Creek was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Burris Sunday.
